Norm Lacey was our realtor for a very lengthy time before successfully selling the property. At all times he was professional, kept us well informed of his transactions with potential customers, and of the current market conditions in the Reedsport area. He advertised the property in many different ventures, made sure that the property was well maintained and secure, and made suggestions that he felt would better advertise the property. I would recommend him to any future clients. Both my mother and I enjoyed working with Norm. His expertise, availability to us and his knowledge of the area were all to our benefit. His willingness to continue as our realtor during this long difficult market and creative advertising and contact with potential buyers did result in a successful transaction.
