Norm Lacey was recommended to me by a co-worker. As a first time seller I was unsure of whom to start with and as he came highly recommend the choice of using him turned out to be the right one. Norm was very professional both in helping me through the selling process as well as getting the house sold. Since I was out of town he was very good about checking on the property occasionally and letting me know of any issues that needed to be addressed.

I would highly recommend Norm to anyone that was buying or selling a home.
